Was your health insurance claim denied? Don't take NO for an answer... #GetYourCarePaid

Health insurance denials can happen to anyone, even those who are familiar with the specifics of benefits and coverage. Building on 25 years of case management experience dealing with health insurance challenges on behalf of critically ill patients, Patient Advocate Foundation has created a 9-module course to walk you through the process of appealing a health insurance denial to help you #GetYourCarePaid. In less than 3 hours, you'll gain the confidence to identify a denial, write an effective appeal letter, and learn many valuable skills that will empower you to advocate for yourself and those in your community. Test your knowledge after each module with a short quiz and download helpful resources for you to reference later. We hope this training paves the way to an easy health insurance approval!

This free training series is ideal for:

Clinical Support Staff · Providers · Financial Navigators · Case Managers · Advocates · Community Health Workers · Community Health Educators · Social Workers · Patients · Caregivers

"I am so happy that I received this training. It has given me a better understanding of the appeals process. When a patient/caregiver reaches out for assistance with an insurance denial, I can now let them know which documents to have available for the clinical case manager. This training was very informative and easy to follow."
